

Remember Fairy

You are a multidimensional being, that is to say you have an aspect of your overall soul self, that exists on each of the twelve dimensions that make up this universe. On the highest dimension, you are part of the Creator, the Source.

You projected yourself from the Source as a beam of light, a being in a light body. You projected yourself into the universe. You sent an aspect of yourself here to the Earth. You first incarnated here, as pure energy. The planet was not dense and solid, like it is now. You were part of a group of light beings, who were the first souls to come from the source; you came here as pure energy to experiment with the powerful energies of the Earth. The merging of your energy with that of the Earth was the most amazing and beautiful experience for both you and the planet herself.

As the Earth cooled and began to drop in vibration, many of your kind were no longer able to come to the Earth, as their bodies were too light and the density of the Earth, made it impossible for them to stay here. Many left to never return. However there were many of you that choose to stay here on the Earth. You would have to transform the soul body into a denser form, in order to be able to stay on the Earth.

Eons of Earth years passed and eventually the Earth began to birth forms that we call fairies. You decided to project an aspect of yourself into the kingdom of fairy. Everyone thinks that fairies do not exist and are a childish fantasy. They are not, they are real. They exist in the fourth dimension of this planet. If you are attuned to them and go to a forest, you can see and experience them. They are pure energy; they appear to us as having wings, so we can understand their nature, yet this is not their true form. They are here on the planet to support the creative growth of Gaia, (the Earth).

Along the way you have forgotten your fairy roots. It is very difficult in a human body to remember fairy. When you were a child you saw them, dreamt about them, but you lost these experiences from your conscious awareness. You fell asleep in consciousness and were unable to truly remember. As well as forgetting your childhood you also forgot your fairy existences. It is time now for you to remember. This remembering of this fairy existence is a major part of your healing for this lifetime. Through this healing you will regain your connection to the Earth. You have an incredible connection to her, you made a promise to her, when you existed as a fairy, to stay with her to see the experiment out to the very end.

All those places in nature that you have visited in this lifetime, where you felt calm, and at peace, are indications that you existed there, as a nature spirit. You need to feel your roots. It is very important to you to be able to feel the energy of the Earth, all around you. When we are stuck in busy cities, it is very difficult to feel this. When you live in such places, there is a part of you, (the fairy in you) that craves the forest and the sea. It is time for you to honour this part of yourself, and give it what it needs. You can become very creative if you connect with the fairy energy. Go out in your favourite place in nature and sleep under the stars, let the fairies come to you in your dreams. They want to awaken your child within. There is magic within you.

You came here as a group soul, you resembled little balls of light. You came here with other forces of creation and wove together the consciousness that was needed to support biological life. These other creative forces were what we know today as dragons. It is no mistake that the ley lines of the planet are called dragon lines in some cultures. They are the backbone of the planet and hold together the matrix that supports the physical form of the planet. They also carry within them the d.n.a code that supports humanity in its ascension to the fifth dimension. The fairy kingdoms are very close to the dragon consciousness in dimension. They support the dragons and help support the creative physicality of earth.

Gaia put out a call along time ago, for the presence that is the Hybrid to come to earth and aid the planetary shift. You as a soul group came here many times. Before you could anchor your energy, your light into the matrix of the planet you had to experience the planet from the side of nature. You had to get Gaia's perspective on things, so you had lives in Fairy. There are many different kinds of beings that exist in the real of Fairy. It is not my intention here to talk about these beings as if they are an individual consciousness. It is my intention here to share with you the memory of what it was to be at the level of consciousness that is Fairy. For it is the blueprint of the Hybrid's first form. This form was needed to commune with the force of intention that later became Gaia. So they sent a creation of their selves as the original energy of Fairy.

Do you remember when you came to this planet with those incredible forces of creations, the dreaming dragons that combined created Gaia's planetary body? The planet was in its early stages of physical development, it was an ethereal place, and it resembled paradise. As the aspects that were fairy merged and communed with the dragon energy and the ideas that were forming to create Gaia, the fairy energy solidified and individualised to create a splendid kingdom, a dimension that aided Gaia in her creation, the realm of Fairy.

If you imagine the Hybrid as being made up of lines of light, each line representing a different frequency, a different being, i.e., Zeta, Lizzie Etc, this will help explain to you how in order to anchor, or plug into the matrix of Earth, the Hybrid blueprint needs a part of the pattern that can attach itself to the Earth. Many of you Hybrids are very alienated from mankind and earthy things, but many of you can relate to Gaia at the level of Fairy. It is not so solid and many of you can easily remember your lives in fairy. Remember time is not linear in the 4/5th dimension, which is where you will find the fairy kingdoms. These existences are still going on in parallel lives; you are living your lives in the 3rd dimension yet you are also having simultaneous lives in the realms of Fairy. The beings you are in fairy aid you being here enough in physical to be perceived by other more 3rd dimensionally orientated humans. So can you see why Hybrids created for themselves aspects that would aid them in their mission to Earth. You see as Hybrids as Star beings, as Multi-dimensional consciousness you have dropped down through the levels creating aspects as you came, to aid you in the particular level that you were on. This aided your purpose and as you entered Earth's atmosphere you realised you need aspects in fairy to help you align and integrate with the energies of Gaia.

Fairy Tales

"The Big Moon was high in the sky. A Star filled sky, rain filled clouds passing slowly overhead. The sea lapped at the shore, quiet almost still. She walked with Him. How it happened they did not know, it was as if they had been hit by lightening. They were in each other's arms, passionately kissing with the gentle rain running down their faces. He kissed her deeply her head reeling, colours swirled about her head, her energy rising, looking into each other eyes souls were awoken, - fairy souls. They were fairy aspects inhabiting human bodies, animating fairy energy into 3rd dimensional bodies; they were swirling in energy, getting drunk on each other energies. As the fairy vortex opened, they disappeared and in their place two-fairy lovers Illiad and Nay appeared. There was a merging the 4th dimensional fairy vibration with the 3rd dimensional human world. She had wished for this, a fairy lover, her memory stirring. A forbidden love on earthy levels, but fairy kin should not be apart. Illiad and Nay merged in energy within the human vehicles. They remembered each other in a way only fairies can. Images of trees, forest and streams, the sweet memories of lying in the sunshine and experiencing the sweet embrace of a fairy lover. As if hypnotised the earthy hour passed on, spellbound, she had become a character in a fairy tale.

The Tale of Illiad and Nay

They were a summer's day and a moonlit dream. Free to run among the trees. They washed their hair in cool streams. "We played content to be just we two."

No one could see them anyway; they were a dimension away. "In landscapes oh so sweet our love was divine, when I was yours and you were mine." "We held each other oh so close; we could not see our true reflection, distorted by the love of the other."

"You were my love, you were my brother. Fairy Kin sweet as wine binds held us close so no distinction could be made. "

Then one day Nay came across a walking man, his saddened face broke her heart and she did say "Oh man of the human world, why do you cry?" "Does not the beauty of the land not heal you so?" Nay was fairy of face and free. The man did see she was a fairy; he began to smile as he took her in his arms. All the time Illiad watched on.

Illiad's heart hardened with the pain of what he saw. The jealousy was too much for his fairy heart. His soul was aching, he was tearing apart, and no longer were they one. He turned into a beast and vowed he would love no more. And as his hooven feet ran through the trees, Nay cried alone. Her breath was gone as the sun set in the sky, Nay lay down and died, no longer was she of the realm of fairy, now she entered the density of the human 3rd dimensional world. "

Universal Hybrids need a framework in which to anchor them within the Earth matrix. The matrix is made up of many different levels and as you enter the Earth's realm you access the fairy kingdoms first. You can anchor there to the first aspect of your twin blueprint. As Hybrids come to earth they see that there is another pattern awaiting them. There is a yin for their yang and a yang for their yin. Hybrids discovered that there was a pattern that they could easily fit into, as if it was designed just for them. Seeing the bigger picture the Hybrids could see how these patterns merging created the amazing structure that is Gaia's Matrix or Web. There was a socket if you like that they could plug into. They could use this socket to download all their information that they carried in their unique universal d.n.a, straight into the intelligence of the planet. This would give Gaia the information that she needed to raise her frequency to light. The energies that you perceive as the fairies are responsible for keeping the dimensional frequencies of Gaia in tact. So once the Hybrid brings in the new blueprint, the new idea, then the fairy energies set to work raising the frequency of the planet.

In order to align with the fairy kingdoms you have to become fairy too. Many of you are having encounters with people you consider to be human when in fact what you are dealing with is the animated fairy aspect of the Soul. You are learning many creative things about nature and the planet through these fairies in disguise. And finally just like all the integration process before, you integrate and become the fairy human hybrid, just like the Zeta before them. As a soul group you do not hold all aspects, so you will begin to meet others who carry the aspects you need to find. It is as if lost parts of you are hidden in the d.n.a of other souls. You regain these lost parts of yourselves through other people. This is speeding the integration process up immensely as the aligning is being acted out in your 3rd dimension, and your 3rd dimensional lives. Your very lives are becoming 4th dimensional fairy tales. You should be very careful what you wish for at this stage. It is not all light in the land of Fairy. Your mission is to anchor into the first dimensional core, your information that you uniquely carried in your hybrid d.n.a. into the very heart of Gaia.

Gaia has a crystal matrix that lies in the centre of the planet and it is your job as hybrids to anchor your information in this place. First of all you have to drop through the levels, dimensions and pass through the veils to anchor at Gaia's core. Hybrid energy in its universal form is very hard to ground to the earth; lots of you hybrids are accused of being spacey and ungrounded. You need to anchor yourselves through all dimensions to become truly multi-dimensional. You need the Devic, fairy energy to spin and screw you into the dimensional levels of Gaia's consciousness. So you are building fairy aspect from the ideas carried in this first Devic consciousness, so that you have the vehicle to take you further into Gaia's Web.

This place is where you find yourselves first connecting to the Kundalini or serpent force that is the electricity unit of Gaia. Fairy energy will show you how to get more into your bodies and anchor yourselves to the planet. As the Kundalini energy activates, the selves present in the personality, the archetypes held within the human psyche will begin to animate, project themselves into your outside world, in order for you to integrate your more human aspects.

Illiad and Nay reunited

" Nay was what they called a common fairy, content to fly through the trees and play, casting fairy dust as she flew. "

Common fairies by their very presence aid the fertility of the land, the growth of the fruit and flowers. Common fairies are not so beautiful, but very jolly of face and energy. In the realm of fairy there is a hierarchy, levels of fairy expression. The very uppermost levels contain the fairies that are royal, the fairy princess and prince, the king and queen. In each and every forest or woods there are the royal family. The royal families are responsible for the protection of the forest. They guide and advice the common fairies and are responsible for the politics, if you like, of the forest, Illiad was one of these royal fairies. Like many classes of people the royal fairies are supposed to marry only royal fairies. It is considered wrong for royal fairies to commune with those of the more common levels. Do not confuse these ways to be like the prejudice of the humans; it is just that royal fairies are of a higher level of consciousness than the common fairies. Illiad was supposed to take his place in the royal court with a bride of equal standing. However he loved Nay. Secretly they played together, making love in the setting sunshine dappling through the Forest leaves.

Illiad would sneak Nay into the court parties, dressing herself in the best dress she could create, painting her toes and fingers with the juice of roses to hide the fact she was not royal at all. Nay was shy, hiding behind Illiad's fine attire. Royal fairies naturally have the most beautiful nails that shimmer in blues and purples. Nays were naturally brown and dirty. She was always concerned that the rose water would wear off and she would be discovered for who she really was. Illiad was bold and rebellious; he took great pleasure in knowing that Nay was not a royal fairy. Their secret love fuelled their desire for each other. Even the trees kept secret their love, taking pleasure in their tenderness.

When Illiad fell from grace, Nay blamed herself, banishing herself from the fairy kingdom. Ashamed and lost without Illiad she roamed the human world. She entered into many heartbreaking relationships with the human kind, trying to ease the shame and guilt that she felt. However she never found comfort, deep in her heart she wished to return to fairy and find Illiad among the beasts.

To rise him from his dark world and release him from his pain. "

"I had to return to the forest. As I entered, I left my human body sitting on a fallen tree; I in fairy body walked on. "

"Deep into the forest Nay walked, ashamed she was finally returning to fairy, to take her punishment and ask for the help of the royals to bring Illiad back to his former glory. Painted nails, now in modern day, nail polish, chipped, revealing dirty nails beneath. Afraid of her discovery of status, she walked fearful step after step. The forest knew of her presence, the trees began to whisper her name. "Nay, Nay ". She began to cry how was she to carry on existing without the love of Illiad? Looking down, the air thick with expectation. The royal family approached. "Nay ", the trees whispered. Each step took all the energy she could muster, leaving behind her human body, entering the misty light of fairy. Out of the mist came the royal family dressed in the finest costumes. As Nay raised her heavy head, she was overjoyed to see Illiad smiling with joy. His face fair, his energy no longer of animal kind freed by her love. In his arms he carried the most beautiful fairy gown.

Nay's wedding gown.

Raised above the common fairy, now a royal she laughed as Illiad embraced her. The forest began to sing their song. The love song of Illiad and Nay. If you enter the forest in the twilight of dusk, if you listen really carefully, you can hear Illiad and Nay laughing, happy to be together as one once again."

Elves

Are you of Elfin consciousness? There are many of you who have an aspect within the multidimensional self, which is Elfin, from the Elf lineage. As an Elf you would have a very important part to play on the planet. As an Elf, your job on the planet was to guard the consciousness of the trees. On some level you are still doing this. For you are existing here in the 3D world and also are existing on another dimension as an Elfin being. It is time in this lifetime for you to access the power of the trees and use their energy for healing.

Trees are the elevated consciousness of the planet itself. Like antennae, they receive messages from the higher dimensions above the fourth dimension. This allows Gaia, (the consciousness of the planet), to access information from the rest of the universe. Through working with the energies of the trees you will be able to access beings from the higher and lower dimensions with little distress and in harmony with the physical body. There are many different beings that make up the world of fairy. They all have different tasks to do and are responsible for different levels of nature. They care for the planet not only on a physical level but also on an emotional level too. Nature is the emotional body of the Earth Mother - Gaia. You in your heart are full of love for her and through your work with trees you will open your heart fully and then you will become more and more aware of your Elvin energy.

There are different levels of consciousness within the Elvin line. Beings incarnate into the Elf ladder of consciousness and through experience and learning, they ascend their emotions and raise their consciousness until they reach the pinnacle of Elf consciousness. Many of you were in dense forms, visually resembling the trees, faces looking like bark and hands and legs resembled trees. As the Elfin ladder is climbed and consciousness evolved through the Elvin line, the appearance changes, to display the development of a being. As the top is reached the form is then made of fifth dimensional light, the form is beautiful, slender and with slivery pale skin, and the eyes are wide and a misty light can be seen emanating from the body. On this level the Elves were very beautiful indeed. They are very graceful and have a loving energy and are loved and respected by those in their Elvin clan.

The Elves on this level were very serious about their work; they gave their whole attention and dedication to their work. For on this level, they were not only responsible for a single tree but were responsible for whole forests. They became the guardians of entire forests. They could hold a frequency that allowed nature to exist in harmony. This was not an easy task, as the third dimension overlaps the fourth and can carry its pollutants into the world of fairy. Not physical pollutants but emotional negatives.

Fairy Royalty

In the realms of the fairy kingdoms there is a hierarchy of consciousness. As the fourth dimensional fairies ascend the levels they become royal. If you can imagine a pyramid making up the levels of fairy consciousness, you will see that the ultimate king and queen are at the top. That is they are the pinnacle of fairy consciousness. These beings are no longer playful, but carry a deep sense of respect and wisdom. As the next levels come from this position, fairy princes and princesses create the next level, which is a royal elevated consciousness. If you open yourself to this energy it will guide you in the magic that will soon be your life. Your physical human body is very light in vibration, this is mainly why you get so tired when you are not given enough time to play. You work too hard, your inner child or should I say fairy self needs to become less serious and allow life to flow. Unfortunately this is seldom the reality in your life. As a fairy in nature you are indeed flighty, you need to call in your scattered energies and concentrate on one task at a time. Be more focused. Allow yourself some time alone to play; you need time to be joyful and creative. They feel your fairy creativity.

You were here in the very beginning; you aided Gaia (the goddess consciousness of the Earth) and nurtured her development. You were a special kind of being, which had been inspired by the goddess to bring yourselves into being. You were created solely to love Gaia. You were her caretakers, her protectors. There are many of you now on the planet but they are unrecognisable by most humans as they live in a dimension that is not third dimensional but fourth dimensional. Some call these beings Fairies. Now in some way they are Fairies but the ideas that we carry as humans about these beings is very false and does not really describe them. The idea of a small being with wings is not entirely true, yes there are beings like this but they are elementals, who aid the development of the trees and plants, these are second dimensional beings and are not really Fairies at all.

Fairies are immense creative beings that group together into massive collective consciousnesses to aid the development and evolution of whole planetary systems. You in the beginning of Earth's history were a being like this. I do not want to call you a Fairy because of our limits in understanding it does not really describe what you were. A co creative force in nature would better describe you. Now there were other aspects of your soul that choose to express themselves in other places in the universe and this is where you will find your star connections. You are here now on the Earth and you are being asked by your soul to embrace this knowledge that you were here in the beginning of Earth's creation and you aided her in earth's development.

You sang her creations into being, you embraced the love of the universe and harnessed the love of the Source that lives sleeping in the very centre of all physically manifest forms and sang them awake. In the centre of every physical form is an atom that is part of the original first birth of the universe. When the big bang occurred the matter that was scattered through out the void. Contained within it was the spark of the creator, within this core atom lies the love of the Universal Dreamer. When people talk about God waking up in matter, it is this atom that contains the spark of the creator, which will ignite, and the consciousness that is within it will awaken. You as this mighty being had the ability to awaken this energy that sleeps in the centre of every manifest form. When you came to the space allocated to be the place of the earth, you called all the atoms of the scattered matter into one place and this was the very beginnings of the creation of the body of Gaia. Once the planet was created in form you inspired Gaia to awaken within the atom of this matter and take up her position of the conscious resident of the Earth. You inspired and ignited her to waken. Even though you may have no awareness of this you are still performing this task of inspiring Gaia with your presence on the earth, here now in a human body.

As you can imagine your relationship with the earth is a long and complex one. You have been with her if only in energy, since the beginning of her creation. You were sent directly from the Source to come here and express yourself in the third dimensional reality, which is current on the earth. As energy, you came to the space that was allocated for the creation of the earth to reside in. You then became one of the beings that make up the natural realms of this earth. The nature spirits, the devas and the fairies realms were the direct descendents of the sparks of light, that were showered on to the earth at the beginnings of its creation. You were one of these sparks of god, a soul coming directly from the source to the earth, to express itself in the imagined forms that were being dreamed in Gaia's consciousness. Other sparks of the source, went to other planets and dimensions in the universe before coming to the earth and therefore some are considered to be star born. You have been with the earth from the very beginning and are woven into her consciousness, as if you and she are one.

You began to become denser and could take on the form of what we today consider to be nature spirits or fairies. Do not think that the romantic pictures that we see in children books is a truthful portrayal of these beings, this is far from the truth. Nature spirits do not take on the forms of humans, especially not children. They often depict themselves as being made of the same substance of the part of nature they represent. If they are the fairy of a tree, they will appear as if they have bark for a face and branches for arms. It is the human mind, (which is the translator of energy), which creates the visual ideas that we have in our minds, and enables us to see fairies. Go out and look in nature and look for the faces in the trees, these are nearer to a true depiction of these beings, than those we see in children books.

As a spark of the source, you came here in an energy body, which was above the level of being called in any way physical. As you merged your consciousness with Gaia, you too wove a body of light around yourself in which you could take on a denser and denser expression, finally being able to manifest yourself as several different kinds of nature spirits, some of them living in the same time frame and space. You were not restricted to only one expression at one time, as you merged yourself with Gaia in these forms; you became intrinsically a part of her consciousness. For thousands of years you moved through the hierarchy of the ladder of consciousness, which is fairy. Just as we evolved over time as human beings, these beings too evolved and transformed, becoming more complex, more dense, evolving their intelligence, becoming the mind of Gaia.

You have been on the planet earth from its very beginning. When the earth was not yet solid and dense, many elemental beings came to this planet. They came to bring designs of plants and animals here for the earth to create as forms. Now they did not resemble the fairies that we know today. These Elementals were spiritual entities of a different dimension. Living in the realms of the fourth dimension, the elementals attached themselves to one of the four elements of fire, earth, air and water. Other elementals were birthed into being, Nymphs and Sprites of the Water Kingdom, Gnomes of the Earth, Sylphs of the Air and Salamanders of the Fire Kingdoms. These were later known as fairies. The elementals of the plant kingdom cared for the development of all plant species, that spring to life from the soil of the Earth. Just as the human body possesses, the spiritual life energy of love and light, so do inanimate forms.

You were one of these beings. You came here as a Devic force, aligned yourself to the elements and became a nature spirit. You were a part of the complex web of consciousness that interlinked with the Earth's consciousness. You came into existence to tend the earth and to transform spiritual energies, and lock them into the physical plane. There is a vast, shore-less, boundless, etheric field populated by billions of elementals. They are far more numerous than human beings or any other organic beings in the universe.

You as a Fairy are from an ancient line of consciousness. Fairies too evolve but in a way that is largely outside space and time. You were conscious, but with only a limited sense of self-awareness and a high degree of instinctive action. As with all conscious creation, over vast periods of time, these Elementals became more aware. They attracted to themselves the building blocks of a higher consciousness and began to strive and to understand a method of evolvment, within their own spiritual natures. Many, many times you were absorbed back into your form of universal consciousness and then re-appeared to do more service for the Earth. Gradually, as experience and needs dictated, you became attached to the higher forms of Fairy.

You have forgotten the Fairy part of your soul. Now is the time for you to remember. This part of you wants you to communicate with it. Fairies love nature where it is left to be wild and un-kept. Find a place like this, a place where you can sit and meditate and tune into the fairy energy. Spend some time there and open yourself to the communication. Sit quietly, open your body and relax and allow your rational mind to quieten and allow the intuitive, imaginative mind to take over. Allow yourself to dream.

You may sense communication with the fairy, as energy. Or you may receive words or images, colours, music or just an intuitive sense of knowing. You may not consciously sense the Fairy, yet may still be interacting with them; often sudden insights are the result of assistance from the Fairy kingdom. Meditation and observation on and with nature, including the stones and crystals, can enable you to encounter the gateways, to awaking this communion and communication. It is possible to experience the Fairy as a spirit essence. During this you may feel an embrace of energy, which may or may not be accompanied by messages perceived in words or visions, colours, or physical and emotional sensations. The Devas can really help with your healing and spiritual evolution and you can help them in the harmonizing and achievement of the highest evolution of manifested reality. When you approach a Fairy and are open to receive contact with a respectful and appreciative heart and mind, then such transient sensations can develop into a deep communion.

You made a promise to the earth, that when you incarnated into the human world that you would honour and support the earth in her transformation. Part of your task was to recognise who you were and see yourself in nature. You were to reconnect your human self with your fairy self. Maybe there is knowledge that needs to be taught from the fairies to the humans.
