

Welcome Everyone

Well spring is here and the birds are calling all to change. We think that the New year starts on the first of January but for those who are attuned with the cycles of the Earth, spring is the time of new beginnings. The end of the old , the end of winter and the beginning of the new in spring. We have been fooled by those who want us to believe that the new year starts in January, to prevent us from harnessing the magic and energy of springtime . For me this is the time of making new plans and forging new connections , to bring about my dream.

What do you dream , what are wanting to manifest in your reality, this springtime, the true beginning of the new year and the new cycle ? Seldom do we give it much thought , many of us do not really believe we are the creators of our own reality , leaving it up to destiny or some unseen power. It is time for you to take back your power of creating , to realize your own personal dreams. What do you dream as you enter the fourth dimension ?

New universe by Alloya

Is the Earth really ascending ? Or is She going to pass as a prime atom through the zero portal into the Void, where she is going to birth a completely new universe and new planet.

Where are you going , are you going to ascend back to the source , which you have done many times before , or are you coming with us to create a new universe? A recent reading by Alloya . Check out the website for more to come about this in the near future. www.alloya.com continued on page 5.

The fourth dimension by Alloya

Are you waking up in the fourth dimension and do not know it?

We are on the verge of an amazing transformation here on the Earth. We are in the very beginning stages of a transformation that has never been done before, anywhere else in the universe. We are in the process of merging all dimensions into one .Our directive is to merge all dimensions as one inside of our physical Gaia bodies and also within the planetary reality , we find ourselves in. I ask again are you waking up in the fourth dimension and do not know it? What I mean by this, you may ask. I have been in a deep communication with the planetary consciousness that I chose to call Gaia. She has been telling me how we are not ascending out of the third dimension but merging all dimensions into one. The very first stages of this transformation is to become aware and awake on all dimensions, at first individually and then to merge all dimensions into one. I am in the very first stages of waking up in the reality of the fourth dimension. I have not moved from the third dimension to do this, but have become aware and awake on both dimensions at the same time.

How can you tell you are in the fourth dimension?

- Are you constantly seeing numbers on your digital clocks, such as 11.11, 10.10, 12.12 etc?
- Are you thinking of something within your mind and then seeing the answers or the confirmation of your thoughts in your outside reality?
- Are you seeing others reflecting your inner processes, as if they are you?
- Are you moving in and out of fear and not knowing why?
- Are you experiencing strange body feelings and illnesses?
- Are you seeing other people change as if they are possessed?
- Are other people trying to stop your process?

The fourth dimension
by Alloya

- As you move into the fourth dimension there are codes that will come from your outside reality to trigger your awaking. The very first of these are the phenomenon of the numbers. Are you beginning to see these number codes, such as 11.11, 12.12 etc? This is a game coming from the interaction between you and your soul and you're outside reality. This does not freak out the rational mind, when you start to see this phenomenon, but it will call in question, "just what is going on?" This is a game, you can ignore it if you like and think it is only coincidence, but it will continue until you cannot ignore it and have to question, why am I seeing this? There is a lot of information within these number codes and for some of you; you will come to understand this. However it is not necessary for all, as not all of you are code masters. However you will not be able to deny that this phenomenon is making you question your reality. This phenomenon will make you become open to synchronisation. We are programmed in our rational minds to not believe in synchronisation and to believe it is only coincidence. Our rational minds are controlled by a matrix which lies over the planet; this matrix prevents us from accessing our higher selves and transforming our perceptions of reality. However it does not matter how locked in this matrix we are; this number phenomenon can get through, to activate our awaking. When you begin to see this, breathe deep and allow the energy which comes in these moments to anchor into the cells of your body, this will help activate your d.n.a. This will begin a process of awaking within you. The rational mind will want to stop this process as it is programmed to do so. Do not allow your rational mind to fill you with doubt or fear; do not stay a slave to this brain function. Our whole world is ruled by this rational tyrant, it is time to free yourself from its limits and confines. Free yourself from this rational prison.
- Are you walking down the road, thinking about something to see a truck go by with an advertisement on it, which contains the answer to your question? Let me give you an example. I had a new boyfriend and he lived in Egypt and I in England. I was thinking how I will continue this relationship as we live so far away from each other, not only in distance but in culture and rules too. I was sad as I was coming to realise that I would have to end this relationship. I walked into a shop to see a poster on the wall, with a picture of a heart on it and the words "Impossible love ". Or are you thinking about something to turn on the radio and to hear the words of the lyrics of a song, giving you the answer to your question? Or do you turn over the channel of the TV, to hear and see the presenter talking directly to you. I know this all sounds like insanity as many in mental hospitals report these kinds of phenomenon, but this is a direct symptom of moving into the fourth dimension.
- Are you experiencing shifts in your emotional state, such as suddenly feeling sad, or angry? Then are you seeing others expressing these emotional states as if they are reflecting to you, your emotional and mental state of mind? The reason this is happening is because we are mirroring our emotional and mental condition outside into our outside reality in order to see it more clearly. When this occurs, breathe in the words "Truth "and then watch what the others do. They might cry, they might express anger, or laugh. Do not see them as separate to you, but aspects of your inner self, which is in the process of healing and transforming. The energy of "Truth "will allow a healing to occur and as they feel better, so will you. We are all mirroring each others processes. You may also see this in television programs. Do you suddenly get the feeling you are a character in a soap opera? Watch with the idea you are not separate to this character and allow it to bring you healing. Many new age people say that TV is bad for you, but if you watch with this concept in mind then it can be a great healing tool.
- Are you suddenly moving into fear and do not know why? Fear on the fourth dimension is so much stronger than it is on the third. On the third dimension we have survival issues, but for many of us in modern times these no longer apply. On the fourth dimension fear is so much more powerful and can have a crippling affect on your body and self. Are you suddenly feeling waves of fear moving over your body? This is because you are becoming so much more sensitive to other people's emotional states on the fourth dimension. Other people will not be aware they are in fear as they are asleep on the fourth dimension, so you are feeling it for them. In these moments again breathe in truth and allow it to clear this low frequency from your body and theirs (as in truth there is no separation between them and you). Do not always think the fear you feel is yours, look for another source , you will often find that the most powerful people on the third dimension are in fact holding the most fourth dimensional fear in their bodies, which they are simply asleep to realise. Do not move into blame, do not speak out to these people that they are in fear, as you will be talking to their third dimensional egos and they simply will not understand and will be angry with you. If you need to talk to them, talk to them inside your head and then watch their reaction on the outside. If you want information about such phenomenon, talk to them in your head and then you are talking to their soul and not their egos
- Are you feeling strange body feelings and then experiencing strange illnesses? This is the bodies' way of talking to you, to tell you something is going on. When energy moves near you on the fourth dimension, it can make you sick. You may experience tingling, hot and cold rushes, sickness, and diarrhoea, numbness of the arms and legs, or heaviness in your muscles. All of these symptoms can be the affect of another's energy on your body. It can also be the bodies' way of transforming negative low frequency energies from the body, as it moves into the fourth dimension. Do not run off to the doctors straight away but instead move into meditation with your soul and ask it to come into your body .Breathe it in as if it is in the air around you. Breathe it into the areas of your body which are producing the symptoms and allow your soul's energy to clear them for you. You are processing low frequency energies from the fourth dimension. This is your job as a transformer on this planet.

- Are you seeing other people change as if they are possessed? Now this can be the hardest and the most confusing of all the above. This has been happening to me a lot and I thought I was going mad, as when I talked to these people about their negative behaviour they had no idea they were acting in this way. And to make it worse others present also cannot see them acting strange or unpleasant. They are being possessed by an entity which is fear. On the fourth dimension fear has become an entity in its own right. When you are in this higher energy, it brings this fear energy in, to anchor into the body of the other people. It will move them to act and behave in strange and sometimes unpleasant ways. This can be a little frightening. This fear entity wants to harm you and bring you also into fear so it can stop your process. Fear wants to stop this process of transformation and will go to great lengths to stop you, and bring you back into the third dimension. If you are in fear on this level, your body will activate survival codes and these codes will bring you back to lock you in the third dimension. So when you see others reacting to you in a negative fashion and then later they are nice to you again, just know they are not as awake as you, and will have no memory of their behaviour. As is often the case with possessions, the one being possessed will have no memory of themselves being possessed by this fear entity and will not have any memory of their bad behaviour. Do not allow this to make you paranoid, you are not going mad; you are simply waking up and seeing how others are locked in the illusion. Soon they too will be free and will experience this too, and you will be their guide as I am being yours.
- Are other people trying to stop your process? Are you really happy and feeling one with your soul, only to have someone point out to you your negativity or put you down in some way? This is because they are not comfortable with you taking them up into a higher energy. They like to keep you locked in the third dimension as this is where they are comfortable. They will make you drop in vibration and become like them. Do not blame them for this, they are not awake and this is a way of survival. There are many who are locked in mental hospitals because they were too happy, too manic. It was not that they had the problem; it was the others who were not comfortable with them radiating a higher energy. So they give them drugs to bring them down, and make themselves feel more comfortable. Are you realising something amazing about yourself or the universe, maybe even talking to another about this, or just on the verge of a great healing, when the phone rings or there is someone at the door. This breaks the connection and the flow and brings you crashing down back into the third dimension. This again is the fear entity at work, it can prompt others to disturb you and bring you back down into the third dimension. Just notice, do not allow this to disturb you too much but realise you must be getting somewhere, if fear is wanting to stop you in this way.
- The fourth dimension is so full of illusion; it is hard to really know what truth is and what is not. Always go with what you first think and feel. Do not give your power away.

I intend to write a lot more about this subject. Regularly look on my website for updates. www.alloya.com

All my love Alloya

"Beloved you are unifying your final issues now, as you move through the doorway of the illusion that has been held for your growth as a unifier in other worlds and dimensions. Do you realise that the work you do is that of the Goddess of Divine Love that is the Mother/Father Earth and the essence of Creation. You hold the keys to this clarity through the journey of unification that you took and you open up the doorway for all to come through after you.

There are many that have come before and in the greater reality there is no before or after but simply the doorway of the worlds that each human is, that each and everyone holds the key, the ankh of RA and the life force that flows eternal.

The liberation is the unification of all aspects of creation, and all aspects that are not unified come to you and all people in the form of others in their life. Those that are opening a doorway come in more strongly and the clearer you get the subtler it is.

The inner is the outer and all is one, welcome to the house of RA".

A very interesting reading

You are a great gift for this planet. And we are honoured to have you here. Let me explain. You are a very special being, to have here on the planet at this time. As you are probably aware the planet is in the process of a great transformation. She is transforming herself into something that has never been before. Many planets in the universe have changed their frequency and have ascended in consciousness, returning back up the dimensions to return to the Source of this universe. However the Earth is going to do something that has never been done before. She is not ascending as many think, but she is calling all dimensions into herself and she is going to carry all these dimensions as one into the Void. Once she is inside the void she is going to create a brand new universe. One which is more than the sum of its parts. That is to say, the Source and its many expressions is going to birth itself a new. You are a being from this new universe. You are from the future if you want to look at in a time frame.

I do not know if you have read about the super hybrids in my website. So I will explain. This universe is made up of twelve dimensions and on each dimension there is an aspect or self which represents the dimension it originates from. The Super hybrid beings, of which I am one, are beings that in their soul carry all the expressions of this universe. That is to say they are a combination of many frequencies and energies. Within their d.n.a they have all the records of all beings, all planets, and all star systems. The super hybrids are here at this time on a mission, to anchor all that they are on the other dimensions into the physical cells of the body. The physical human form is the representation of the planet itself too. As they integrate these many energies into the physical they are pulling all dimensions down into the first dimension of this planet. This will create what is known as the prime atom. This is like a seed which contains all of creation. This seed will be move through the zero portal which is situated in the very centre of this planet. No where else in the universe has the access to this portal. This is the entrance to the Void. The Void is the space where all of creation comes from, even the Source itself was birthed from this nothing. The void gives the space and the energy to create new universes. It is like the dark, black soil which is rich and potent, in which the seed of this new universe can grow.

Even the Source itself does not really know how this will come about; it is an adventure for the Source itself. You in your soul are from the future, a time when we have completed the integration of all dimensions and have passed through the zero into the void. Once the prime atom is inside the void it will use the un-manifest potential of the void to create a brand new universe.

You see every universe is an experiment of the Universal Dreamer. This universe in which we currently live is a universe of freewill. The Source breathed out its creation giving it the power to create just as itself. It then allowed it free rein to create and manifest what it liked, with no interference from the Source. That is to say there are no rules, and therefore beings have distorted and disharmonised their energy, so they no longer resemble their original blueprints. In some ways this experiment did not go so well. The Universal Dreamer had no idea that its creations could come into so much distortion and disharmony. So when it considered what could be done with this experiment it considered the destruction of it completely. Then in its wisdom the Universal Dreamer decided that it would pull all dimensions and energies and selves into one, i.e. the prime atom. This it would send through the zero portal and catapult it into the void. This would create a new big bang if you like and a new universe more than the sum of its parts would be born. Again it is an experiment and even the Universal Dreamer itself does not know the real outcome of this.

In order to not miss anything the Universal Dreamer is intending to wake up in its creation and experience the birth of this new universe first hand. As I said you are a being from the new universe. You have obviously come back through the zero portal to be here at this time, to show us we have succeeded and to also show us the way to our glorious future. Now on this level it is hard to find words to describe as even the Source itself is new to this and does not know. So as you can see it is hard for me to know. Now I can hear you thinking, this cannot be how can I be so special, I am only one man living a normal life on the Earth. How can Alloya say I am from this new universe. The reason for this is because your soul is not inside your body. And therefore you cannot get a real concrete sense of this and have not brought this into your human experience as of yet. I think an image would better explain this. Imagine in the very centre of this planet there is a huge black hole, and through this hole there is the Void, an expanse of dark nothing. Imagine your soul as a seed of light and information way out in the void, but it is connected by a thin thread to a being here on the Earth in the third dimension. Your soul is out in the void, but it is connected by a thin thread to you as a human on the Earth in the third dimension.

You are like a plumb line that has been cast out into the void. Now what you need to do is contact your soul who is out in the void. Now I have no idea how this will work so we can only try. So I will give you a meditation to try and we can see what this does and then we can take it from there. It may not work the first time you may have to practice this over and over. Sit down and make yourself comfortable and close your eyes. Take some very deep breaths, really allow you to relax. Feel yourself here on the Earth in a third dimensional body, really feel what it feels like to be third dimensional Then allow yourself to drop in vibration and dimension. Imagine that the energy of the second dimension is in the air around you. Allow it to build and when you are ready breathe it into every cell of your body. You will then drop down into the second dimension. You will know when this has occurred as you will feel heavier in the body and warm. You will also notice that you mind becomes more quiet and there are less thoughts. Then do the same with the first dimension, this is the place of gravity so therefore it will feel very hard and heavy indeed. Use your imagination to aid you in this process. Imagine in front of you a huge gateway that leads into the void. See the blackness on the other side of the gateway. Imagine that you are two beings, one self is going to stay here in the third dimension as an anchor and the other will allow itself to pass through the zero gateway into the void. See and feel a line or pipe not unlike the oxygen pipes that connect astronauts to the space ship when they go outside into space. Feel for the point in the void where your future soul self is and allow yourself to drift very slowly towards it. Once you have found it, allow its energy to move inside of you, this may take some time. Once this is complete allow your third dimensional self to slowly pull you back in. Just thinking about this will do this. I think you will have to perform this over and over as a daily exercise. This will bring this information of the new universe into the cells of your physical body, your physical body will then act as a loud speaker and it will begin to radiate this information in energy onto the planet Earth. This will remind all beings here what the plan for this planet really is.

This is your life work and your mission here on the Earth. You see a lot of people and beings in the universe think the Earth is ascending and are teaching others this is how it is. This is having dire consequences on the rest of the universe and the Earth itself, for this is not what she is doing at all. She is doing something totally brand new. Your mission is to allow the truth of this message to ring from your body. You can tell this information to people all you like but unless they get a sense of this in energy in their body, they will never truly understand. We are running out of time , and it is imperative that this message gets out and affects the energetic bodies of those who are just waking up , so instead of making the mistake to return to the Source , which many of them have done many times before , they can choose to come to new planet , within a new universe. This is your job and your reason for being here on the Earth at this time.

I would like to draw your attention to my new book , “ Her Perspective “ . This has recently been put on my site. I am currently staying in Germany , two hours drive from Munich. I am available for individual sessions and seminars. A translator is available , please request this when making the appointment. I offer the following individual sessions :

◆ Hands on Healing.

This process can aid the healing of the body as well as the emotional, mental and etherical bodies. The etherical body is a body that is almost electrical in nature that lies around and within the physical body. By cleansing and balancing this body, many ailments and illnesses can be relieved. Alloya sends energy out of her hands and works on the energy body to bring it back into balance. She places her hands on certain points on the body and feeds in the energy. Included in this healing technique, is the cleansing and balancing of the chakric system. The Chakric system is a group of seven vortexes or wheels that lie along the spine. By bringing these into alignment, healing on all levels can occur. These charkas feed the physical body as well as the emotional, mental and soul bodies. This technique is very relaxing. The client just has to sit and relax. The session lasts for an hour. Fee : 60 euros

◆ Weiss Transformation Process.

The cells of the human body are like a storehouse of information; each and every cell contains information from this lifetime and beyond. All the experiences that you have ever had, whether from this lifetime or past lifetimes or expressions are coded into the body. This encoded information contains programming about who you think you are. You operate and create your reality from the beliefs. Not all of these beliefs are your soul's truth. You learnt these beliefs from your parents, family, friends and authority figures. The body holds these negative beliefs about yourself and you have no other choice than to be the person these beliefs dictate you are. This negative programming emits a frequency that is held by the cells, this frequency is a low frequency of fear, anger, pain and suffering. We need to clear this programming, bringing space in which to reprogram the body with beliefs that are in alignment with the soul's truth. By bringing in the energy of the soul into the body, the very nature of this energy clears the body and brings in a higher more truthful program of who you really are. The soul's energy is a high frequency; the fear a low frequency, science says that a high frequency and a low frequency cannot exist in the same space at the same time, so the higher cancels out the lower. This allows the soul to then encode its high information about who you really are into the body. You are then able to operate from this new belief system of yourself. You see that in your truth, you are all multidimensional beings of light, existing on all the dimensions of creation in one form or another. By doing the following transformational process you can remove the low frequency, encode the higher and live your life the way your soul intended, free of fear, anger, pain and suffering. Alloya guides you through a healing session where she supports your growth and healing. All you need to do is follow her guidance and breath in the higher energy. It a very simple, but very affective transformational process.

The session last for an hour. Fee : 60 euros

◆ Past Life regression.

Using a creative visualization technique Alloya can take you back to former lives, where healing and karmic balancing needs to take place. She holds a healing frequency and allows the client to explore and heal their past. You can see the patterns that run through all lives and clear those that are negative, freeing you in this lifetime to live the life you choose .

The session lasts for an hour. Fee : 60 euros

◆ Spiritual advice and channelled information.

Alloya gives advice and coaching in spiritual practices as well as channelling information from higher beings and energies, bringing you answers to some of your questions. All is needed from the client is to have an open mind and a listening ear.

The session last 40 minutes. Fee : 60 euros

◆ Family Re-creating

This universe is made up of twelve dimensions , on each one the family is represented. There is a family structure on each and every dimensional level. Here on the third dimension the human story is represented as a family dynamic , which may or not be harmonious. These family dynamics on the third dimension are only a mirror reflection of a story that is going on , on a higher level. Many of you have experienced family restructuring with little or no actual change in your outside reality, the family stays the same. One of the reasons for this , is that in order to recreate your outside reality, you have heal more than one dimensional level, in order for any changes to be actualized in your outside reality. There is a family drama going on on each of the levels, there are other aspects of yourself on the other dimensions, who feed information down to you on the third , which you then play out in your third dimensional family. By working in an energy which calls all the multidimensional family into the space of healing , we can really make actual changes which will reflect in your outside reality. It is possible to heal the whole human family on Earth with this Family Re-creating. Alloya is the main facilitator in this process, guiding the whole process in the energy of Truth . Alloya works with assistants Nina Grasse , who provide a clear channel for the client to interact with the different multidimensional aspects who come into the process. I t is hard to say how long this session will take , usually a whole afternoon is allocated for this session. Fee: 120 euros.

The Hidden woman

The world today holds a very limited idea of what it is to be female. Mother, daughter, lover and wife. We are taught by authority figures, parents and men that we are somehow less than the male of the species. In this workshop we will re-look at our ideas and concepts. What it is to be a woman?

Held in our bodies are program what it is to be feminine. Alloya intends to look closely at these programmes, many taught by our family and friends and the world in general.

Through powerful techniques we will remove our negative and limiting ideas and readdress our issues around being a woman. We will look at such issues as ,the relationship to the body and how we hold on to limiting judgements and concepts about the self. We are taught by society what is beautiful and many of us do not live up to these standards that are set for us. This can have a very damaging affect on our perceptions of ourselves and our concept of beauty.

There will be intensive exploration of your feelings and ideas about sexuality. We will release past traumas some remembered some forgotten in our distant past .We will find better ways to deal with our relationships to men and also to our female counterparts. You will learn creative new ways of connecting with your inner female power. We will learn to love and accept ourselves exactly as we are. By pulling the power of these energies into our bodies we can empower our selves as females and live in female body in the way we were meant to. This will allow us to move into the creative power of who we really are. We will use many and varied techniques. A transformational process – to remove unwanted programming and emotional baggage from the present and the past.. We will use , Creative visualisation .Art and drawing. Dance and music.

Working with Light

Do you consider your self a light worker? A definition of a light worker is one who has come to this planet in service to aid this planet as it shifts in consciousness. Did you know that the Mayans predicted a shift in consciousness on this planet after the year 2012? We are at present in our atomic structure of our bodies and planet ,vibrating at a third dimensional rate; the planet has plans to raise its frequency of vibration to a fifth dimensional level. The atoms of the body will speed up to the same rate of the speed of light. Are you a healer, psychic or just want to see this planet and yourself full of power, love and light? Then this is the workshop for you. As the transformation of the planet increases in acceleration, we, as light workers should be stepping into our power as the amazing light beings we really are. However this is not happening, we need to remove all limiting beliefs that we have about ourselves and take back the power that we do possess, to change this world. It is a coaching training for those who are along the road of their own transformation yet are stuck, and need the next step. Find ways of anchoring into the body higher and higher frequencies. Align yourselves with the ray of your spirit that comes directly from the source. Remove those core beliefs and issues and activate the transformation of the d.n.a. We will use intense transformational processes to clear all negativity from the body, leaving room for the merging with your divine self. Find new and empowering new techniques for use within your current light working practices. Increase the frequency of the body and really know who you are, on your highest level.

Multi-Dimensional Soul Integration

We ,as our divine self , exists as a Multi-dimensional consciousness. In this workshop you will learn how to access and integrate the aspects of the Soul that are contained in this divine self . Learn how to retrieve all soul fragments and understand the impact of soul agreements. Discover the hidden meanings in your relationships to your loved ones through the exploration of your soul contracts. Empower yourself by bring the higher frequency expressions of yourself into your body and life. Learn how to channel, heal and express the various multi-dimensional aspects.

On the other dimensions you can experience yourself as a variety of different energies, these energies are held in the d.n.a of the body and can be accessed to bring you useful tools and abilities in your everyday life. Channelling these frequencies can enhance your healing and can be used to heal others. Use these frequencies to transcend old behaviour and negative patterning and access your true divine self. Learn to express your divinity and live it in the creativity within your lives. Open up your creative and inspired connection to your soul and bring the truth of who you are here into the third dimension. Gain deeper meaning in your life and remember your soul's choice for coming here to earth at this time. This workshop is open to all, whether experienced metaphysicians or complete beginners!

Male and Female

Bring the expression of Soul into your most intimate relationships.
Work in harmonic balance with the yin and yang.
Bring truth into the illusions that cloud your vision of each other.
Create together a healing synergy , which will raise the consciousness of your relationship

In this seminar Alloya will look at the dynamic expression of energy which is the relationship between men and woman. She will guide you inside of yourself, where you will meet your inner male and female energies. Whether you are in a female body or a male, you have access to both the male and female energy. By bringing yourself back into harmony with these two forces inside yourself, you will transform and heal.

Together we will look at the limited and negative beliefs which stand in the way of perfect sharing and communication between the male and female energies. We will remove blocks of energy in the bodies which prevent the true perfect expression. Many of us have had negative past experiences of relationships; these issues will be looked at closely and cleared, leaving space for more expanding and healing beliefs about the opposite sex. We will explore the dynamic exchange of energies between these two energies. We will explore past lives where we have lived as the other sex, to get a clearer perspective.

We will explore the following issues:

Dominance and passivity between the sexes.
Negative belief systems and myths between the sexes.
Typical communication problems between two ways of thinking.
Sexual and sensual issues.

We will use the Transformational process taught by Alloya, creative visualisation techniques, past life regression, energy dynamics study , electromagnetic energy exchange techniques, channelling and spiritual advice , questions and answers and sharing and communication between the male and female energies. It is not necessary that you come with a partner or are currently in a relationship. What is necessary is that you come with an open and loving heart, ready to look at your limiting beliefs which hold you back from having a harmonic exchange with the opposite sex.

Please bring water to drink, a cushion and blanket.
